Church Lodge - Northwood Park

The Ward family commissioned lodges to their 230-acre private park which once served the nearby Northwood House with its house and buildings designed by John Nash, the renowned architect who also designed Brighton Pavilion. Nestled in a conservation area, this classical style lodge has been sympathetically restored to its current status and has planning permission for further improvements.

Interior

An impressive and unique property which is bright and airy throughout, has many original and delightful features and renovations have kept its original character and charm.

Ground Floor:

Two large reception rooms, kitchen and inner lobby with understairs wc. An impressive dining/reception area with original flagstone flooring and fireplace, this leads to an inner lobby that has a discreet understairs cloakroom and a curved timber screen (which is an original feature) between the sitting room and hallway.

The sitting room has three windows, with deep sills, that allow light to flood in to this large, but cosy, room that also has a working log burner set within the chimney breast.

The kitchen has space and plumbing for a slimline dishwasher and washing machine within the wooden wall and base units in contrasting white and taupe. A thick oak wood worksurface runs either side of this galley kitchen that has a rear door to the courtyard area of the garden.

First Floor:

Two large double bedrooms, again bathed in light, both have feature fireplaces.

The bathroom has both a fully tiled shower cubicle and separate bath along with basin and W.C.

Exterior

From the kitchen you can access the walled courtyard with an opening to the main garden that backs onto Northwood Park. Within this beautiful peaceful setting, with its lawn, mature shrubs and trees, is a useful garden store and a white stone path curves around from the rear courtyard to the front forming an outside patio area, perfect to relax and enjoy the charm of this unique property and its surroundings.

Parking for two vehicles are within the garden boundary.

Cowes

Cowes is rich in nautical heritage and an international mecca for sailing, culminating in Cowes Week held in August each year. It has quick access to Southampton via the more modern Red Jet as well as many marinas and sailing clubs dotted along the waterfront.

Within the High Street there are two supermarkets, many boutique shops, pubs and eateries. Historic Northwood House & Park hosts weddings, fairs, concerts and conferences with outside space to enjoy walks and free use of the tennis courts. The chain ferry links Cowes to East Cowes where the Red Funnel car and passenger ferry to the mainland is situated.
