Interior

A very well presented home with beautiful period features and many safety additions from when it was a guest house. The rooms are large with picture rails and high ceilings which are typical throughout the property, there is the original entrance door and terracotta/black tiles on the floor throughout the porch and hallway.

Ground Floor:

There is a delightful porch with original internal glazed windows and door opening into the main hallway which has a beautiful dark wood staircase, with 'tulip' carvings on each wide spindle, leading up to the first floor. This lobby leads to two spacious reception rooms, both with square bay windows that allows the light to flood in. The large sitting room has a feature exposed brick chimney breast and the dining room is equally sized with a serving hatch to the kitchen. There is also a study and convenient cloakroom, along with a rear family room which has an electric fire and opens out to a conservatory where you can relax and gaze out over the garden.

The kitchen has a large central island with many wall and base units around the room. There is space and plumbing for a dishwasher and space for a free standing cooker. Off the kitchen is a fourth reception room or snug with a stable door to the garden and access to the garage/utility room. This area has been purposed for storage and also houses the boiler, a sink, space and plumbing for a washing machine and a 'paddle ladder' staircase up to the first floor.

First Floor:

On this level are 7 bedrooms, two family bathrooms and a separate cloakroom. Two of the bedrooms, both with beautiful far reaching views through the bay windows, are extremely generous in size and both have ensuite facilities. Four other bedrooms are good sized double bedrooms, two with ensuites, and a single bedroom that has a basin within the room. The two family bathrooms have baths with overhead showers.

Exterior

This handsome house, with a Tudor style facade, sits with a large gravel driveway to one side that sweeps across the front of the property. There are well maintained mature bushes and a lawn at the front of the property and this theme continues around to the rear garden.

This wide outside space has an outstanding beech tree within the lawned area, a large paved patio area and garden store. It is a fabulous quiet space to relax and wind down with well established rhododendrons and azaleas around the garden.

Gurnard

Gurnard is a pretty coastal village which has an iconic row of beach huts at Gurnard Green. It lies to the west of the famous yachting town of Cowes with good mainland connections via the 'Red Jet' to Southampton. The village has a great community spirit and amenities include a local convenience shop, cafe, two popular public houses, a church, a fitness centre, a busy sailing club and a superb local primary school and High School. There is a fabulous array of countryside and coastal paths which are all within easy walking distance.
