Interior

A period cottage with charm and character that has stripped floorboards, replastered walls and feature fireplaces throughout.

Ground Floor:

The sitting room has a bay window which allows light to flood into this cosy room with its open fireplace.

One step up in the hallway leads to the dining room with its bespoke built in understairs cupboards and unusual feature staircase sign, very much a talking point. A gas 'log burner' gives even more character to this room that leads to the kitchen and utility room. In the kitchen, with its blue/grey wall and base units and wood effect worksurface, is a freestanding cooker. The utility room houses the boiler and consumer unit, has space and plumbing for a washing machine and also gives access to the rear garden.

First Floor:

Two double bedrooms, both with feature fireplaces, with the front bedroom being larger and having great views of the Castle.

There is a separate cloakroom as well as a bathroom with overhead shower, basin and wc.

A door opens to a staircase leading to the upper floor.

Second Floor:

A large attic room with double aspect velux windows and plenty of undereaves storage.

Exterior

A low maintenance grassed front garden with a path leading to the entrance door which is beneath a traditional porch roof.

From the patio area adjacent to the house is the long rear garden which reaches up to give beautiful views of the surrounding area and the imposing Castle. With a mature apple tree and separate areas for sitting, including a perfectly positioned decked area that allows you to enjoy the peaceful garden and glorious views.
