THE PROPERTY

Full mining investigation has been completed. A wonderful opportunity to purchase a totally unique 16th Century, Grade II listed, broad fronting cottage of immense charm, positioned within magical woodland gardens and beautifully nestled within the historic National Trust Godolphin Estate. The property is being sold with no onward chain and is to be sold for the first time in approximately forty years. This delightful property offers massive potential and now requires modernisation to bring it back to it's former glory.

This property originally once belonged to a wealthy mine captain, and within the enchanting gardens there is a unique detached Grade I Blowing House which was used to smelt tin, and we understand is the only one left in existence in Cornwall.

The property offers painted stone/rendered external elevations, under a pitched slate tiled roof complemented by terracotta ridge tiles, pretty multi pane wooden framed windows and heated by an oil fired central heating system. The home is further warmed during the winter months by a log burning stove situated in the living room. A useful gardener's external WC is situated adjacent to the conservatory.

The ground floor offers a kitchen, living room, dining room, conservatory and study. A staircase ascends from the dining room to the first floor accommodation which offers three spacious double bedrooms, all benefiting from en-suite bath/shower rooms.

The extensive sylvan gardens are mainly laid to lawn and bordered by Natural Trust woodland providing a very high degree of privacy, peace and tranquility. The property owns a detached two storey garage located opposite the Natural Trust's driveway, together with the Blowing House which was once used for tin smelting purposes many moons ago.

A viewing is highly recommended to appreciate this wonderful unique home where the next owner can place their own 'stamp' on the property.

LOCATION

The highly regarded residential village of Godolphin Cross is a picturesque rural village, located amongst gorgeous rolling countryside, and within easy driving distance of both south and north Cornish coastlines offering superb surf beaches. The area is surrounded by farmland and National Trust areas providing some outstanding walks, and Tregonning Hill is close by where one can enjoy magnificent far reaching rural views towards both coastlines. Nearby is the historic estate of Godolphin House, which is one of Britain's most highly admired National Trust's properties set within superb gardens and grounds. The villages of Breage and Porthleven are nearby offering schooling with Porthleven offering shops, public houses, and restaurants. A local bus service operates through Godolphin village serving the surrounding areas. The larger towns of Helston and Penzance are within easy vehicular reach, providing a larger array of amenities such as national branded supermarkets, shops, dentists, doctor surgeries, junior and senior schools.

DIRECTIONS

Proceed from Helston towards Godolphin. Once at the crossroads within Godolphin village, continue straight on towards Godolphin House for 0.5 mile whereupon Blowing House Cottage can be found on the right hand side. Drive down the National Trust's unmade road where the house can be found on the left hand side.

The above property details should be considered as a general guide only for prospective purchasers, and do not form part of any offer, or contract and should not be relied upon as a statement or representations of fact. Olivers Estate Agents does not have any authority to give any warranty in relation to the property. We would like to bring to the attention of any purchaser that we have endeavoured to provide a realistic description of the property, no specific survey or detailed inspection has been carried out relating to the property, services, appliances and any further fixtures and fittings/equipment. If double glazing has been stated in the details, the purchaser is advised to satisfy themselves as to the type and amount of double glazing fitted to the property. It should not be assumed that the property has all the planning, building regulations etc and any buyer should seek the advice of their instructed solicitor. We recommend all buyers to carry out their own survey/investigations relating to the purchase of any of our properties. All measurements, floor plans, dimensions and acreages are approximate and therefore should not be relied upon for accuracy.

AGENTS NOTE 2

There is an adjacent overgrown area of orchard/woodland and pond (behind the garage), which is owned by the National Trust. We have been informed it has been leased for many years to the owners of Blowing House Cottage at a peppercorn rent and the same agreement will be available to the new owners if required.

The access driveway from the main road is owned by the National Trust which gives access to the detached garage and parking area. As acting agents, we have been informed that the owners of Blowing House Cottage have enjoyed a vehicle and pedestrian right of access for many decades. The main driveway is also a natural right of access for walkers and operatives for the National Trust.
