LTT

When you buy a property in Wales which is made up of more than one dwelling, in the same transaction (or linked transactions), you'll be able to claim MDR.

Examples of this include:

houses with an annexe

To work out the amount of LTT payable with a claim for MDR, follow these 3 steps:

Take the total purchase price for all the dwellings and divide it by the number of dwellings you've bought. Take the figure from step 1 and calculate the LTT due based on this amount.

Take the figure from step 2 and multiply it by the number of dwellings used in step 1. This gives you the total amount of LTT payable.

Minimum tax rule

Where you claim MDR you must pay at least 1% of the purchase price of the property in LTT.

This means if you follow the above 3 steps to calculate and get a figure of less than 1% of the property's purchase price, you'll need to uplift the amount on your return to 1% of the purchase price.

In certain cases, MDR cannot be claimed where some other reliefs can be claimed, even if you decide not to claim for them or withdraw.

MDR is not available for transactions where these reliefs are being claimed:

- group relief
- reconstruction and acquisition relief
- charities relief
- persons exercising collective rights

For a more detailed explanation, or if you're uncertain how the relief applies, you may want to check with a solicitor or conveyancer
