

7 Jackson Terrace, Carnforth, LA5 9HF

£170,000

A charming south-facing terraced house with delightful period features, nestled in a peaceful cul-de-sac of just 10 properties. Originally built for the managers of the Iron Works circa 1888. This home combines character and practicality, offering a spacious open-plan lounge and dining room. The lounge boasts a stunning stone fireplace, perfect for installing a cosy wood burner, creating an inviting focal point for the space. The kitchen is equally appealing, with its reclaimed quarry-tiled floor adding a touch of rustic charm. The property offers two well-proportioned double bedrooms and a beautifully presented bathroom.

Outside, the cottage benefits from a south-facing patio laid with Yorkshire stone, ideal for enjoying sunny days, alongside an allocated parking space and a small fruit garden. At the rear, there's a garage with additional parking, providing ample convenience. The views are simply breathtaking, with Morecambe Bay and the South Lakes visible from the front, while Warton Crag frames the rear aspect.

The property is superbly located within walking distance of the bustling market town of Carnforth, offering a fantastic range of local amenities, including a train station, well-regarded primary and secondary schools, popular pubs, and excellent bus links. For those needing to travel further afield, Junction 35 of the M6 is just five minutes away. This prime location also places you on the doorstep of the Lake District National Park, making it perfect for lovers of the great outdoors.

Whether you're a first-time buyer looking for a dream home or an investor seeking a ready-to-move-into property with great rental potential, this delightful home is sure to impress!
