A delightful and sympathetically restored period cottage and coach house in a prominent location within easy walking distance of the town and harbour.

Rodwell Cottage is a most attractive period residence being Grade II listed of architectural or historic importance and has been subject to comprehensive and skilful restoration to form a highly impressive and stunning family home. Understood to have origins from the mid 1750's with later Victorian additions, the property was subject to a Civic Society award in 2018 for the restoration of this fine home.

The accommodation is extensive and arranged over 2 floors with additional basement refurbished to a high specification. A welcoming entrance hall with flagstone flooring, feature exposed brick and beamed walls and underfloor heating, leads into an impressive sitting room and dining room. The dining room enjoys a front aspect with exposed wood floors and period fireplace. A feature archway leads through to the sitting room with period fireplace and woodburning stove with French doors to the kitchen. There is a useful study, again with period fireplace and exposed flooring, contemporary fitted shower room and door to stairs with feature glazed partition leading down to a cellar. The kitchen/breakfast room is well appointed with attractive wall and floor cupboards with oak worksurfaces, integrated dishwasher, fridge and freezer and built in microwave oven and Rangemaster cooker. There is a utility room with integrated washer/dryer and freestanding American style fridge.

On the first floor are 5 double bedrooms with en-suite shower room to the main bedroom, which enjoys views to the sea from the front bay window. There is a family bathroom, complete with twin wash basins and separate shower cubicle.

Outside

A small enclosed front garden and driveway with off road parking and leading to integral open garage. Extended parking beyond leads to the Coach House annexe. An enclosed rear garden has a Hydropool and patio.

The Coach House

The Coach House is a delightful 2 storey conversion currently let via Airbnb and producing an excellent income. There is an open plan sitting room and well equipped kitchen with stairs to a double bedroom and en-suite shower room.

Situation
