The Area

Castlefield is an inner-city conservation area. It is a unique and historic district, renowned for its beautifully preserved canals, industrial heritage, and Victorian architecture. The area was once home to the Roman, and its rich history is still visible in the many historical sites and monuments throughout the neighborhood.

The area is home to numerous bars, restaurants, and cafes, as well as a variety of cultural and recreational facilities. The Castlefield Bowl, an outdoor concert venue, is a popular spot for live music events and festivals, while the nearby Museum of Science and Industry provides visitors with an immersive experience of Manchester's industrial history.

The property is perfectly located as it's only a 5 minute walk to Cornbrook Metrolink or 10 minute walk to Deansgate Metrolink and Train Station.
