Attractive Farmstead set in 42.25 acres

An attractive farmstead comprising of a Victorian detached house and a range of farm buildings set in 42.25 acres of long-term pastureland. The house itself is a substantial detached four bedroom farmhouse which was built in the late nineteenth century. It is sited in a private position and benefits from attractive rural views. The accommodation itself is well laid out in a traditional format albeit that it is somewhat dated. The ground floor comprises entrance porch, WC, utility room, kitchen/dining room with feature oil fired Aga and log burner, hallway and living. On the first floor, there is family bathroom, master bedroom, two double bedrooms with wash hand basins and a further single bedroom.

The farm buildings comprise of a mix of modern and traditional buildings, which are well suited to equestrian/livestock uses together with fodder storage. The land is gently undulating and laid to long term pasture offering good quality livestock grazing and mowing utility. Overall Tyn Y Coed Farm offers a mix of land that would provide year round grazing.

Brynna and its adjacent village Llanharan, offer a variety of amenities including three post offices, three established pubs, independent shops and local supermarkets, and three churches and coffee shops. The train station is a three minute walk from the property with main line railway links to Cardiff and Swansea. Also both M4 junctions 34 and 35 are just a few minutes drive away. There are three English primary schools and one Welsh primary school close by and there are plenty of community activities on offer via the community hall and rugby/social club. The village is surrounded by wonderful open countryside with many beautiful walks to hand.
