DESCRIPTION & HISTORY

Kingsmill Down Farm was purchased by the family in the winter of 1920. At that time, it formed part of the South Hill Estate, and it has been farmed by the family continuously since that time.

The property to be offered comprises the farmstead which adjoins approximately 270 acres of land which the Executors will be retaining although part could be available by separate negotiation.

The farming enterprises were traditional and based on rotations of combinable crops and grass which have supported a range of livestock enterprises over the years and the buildings in the farmyard have been adapted over the decades to reflect that.

More recently the land has been entered into a Countryside Stewardship scheme which includes prescriptions to enhance arable land and pasture on the farm requiring the restoration and maintenance of species rich grassland which is a feature of the Wye Downs area. The House and Farmstead overlooks this valley landscape to the south towards the village of Brabourne and to the north, lies Elmstead and Hastingleigh Village and the church.

Since the Second World War the family farming partnership have employed traditional farming methods without significant capital expenditure, so the property offered by the Executors is a fine example of a traditional, unspoilt Kentish farmstead unit with a history going back over several hundred years.

The Grade II listed farmhouse has 4 bedrooms and requires considerable modernisation and expenditure. This occupies a location on the east side of the farmstead with views over the valley to the south.

Within the garden is an unusual South East 'well head' to a depth over 80 meters with a Donkey Wheel also included in the Grade II listing.

The farmyard is arranged between the Farmhouse and the adjacent lane and includes a 19th century barn, a traditional range of lodges, stables, pigsties and a two story granary joining the stack yard, with other outbuildings & barns.

Structural Condition

Whilst we have not carried out a full structural survey, it is clear that the farmhouse is in need of attention in terms of its structure, general renovation and updating. It has been occupied by a working farming family for many years and its condition reflects that.

COTTAGES

To the north of the farmstead there is a woodland shaw of mainly Ash and Sycamore. This is grown up around a pair of semi-detached cottages which date from the late Victorian period and are now derelict with only some exterior walls remaining and in an unstable condition.

IMPORTANT NOTE – The cottages must not be viewed unaccompanied due to the risk of falling masonry.
