Location

Coventry is a major Midlands city with a population of 375,000 and lies 20 miles east of Birmingham and 96 miles north of London. It has excellent transport links via the M6, M69 and M45/A45. Coventry station lies on the West Coast mainline with a journey time to London of 65 minutes.

Situation

Paragon Way is located on the well-established Bayton Road Industrial Estate to the north of Coventry and within 1 mile of Junction 3 of the M6, offering good access to the rest of the motorway network, with the M1, M69 and M42 all readily accessible. Neighbouring occupiers include TVH, Zetor and Zone Two.

Description

The property was built in 2003 and comprises a mid-terraced industrial unit of steel portal frame construction. There are cavity brick/ block walls with insulated profiled steel cladding above and a composite cladding roof with rooflights. There is an electrically operated roller shutter door to the front elevation. Minimum eaves height 6.5m (21ft 4ins). Fire escape door to rear. Electricity, gas and lighting are supplied to the warehouse.

There is an internal office/toilet block to the front of the unit, with suspended ceilings with recessed lighting, carpeted floors and gas fired central heating. Windows and doors to the front elevation are double glazed with powder coated aluminium frames. The mezzanine space above the offices is accessed via a steel staircase and has the benefit of a perimeter safety railing.

Externally there is a concrete forecourt providing 12 car spaces. An additional parking area opposite provides a further 7 spaces (19 spaces in total).

Tenure
