Tenure: Freehold

Welcome to this charming terraced house, currently on the market and waiting for its new owners. This home is neutrally decorated, offering a blank canvas for you to make your own.

The property boasts two inviting reception rooms, perfect for entertaining guests or for cosy family evenings in. The functional kitchen is ready for you to whip up your favourite meals, and with two well-sized bedrooms, there's plenty of room for everyone. The home also contains a modern bathroom, completing the indoor living space.

What sets this house apart, though, are its unique features. It comes with a serene garden, ideal for those who enjoy outdoor living or perhaps have a green thumb. Plus, there's a single garage, providing secure parking or additional storage space.
