Papermill Wharf is renowned as being one of Limehouse's most popular developments. The development is six stories high and consists of just fifty-one apartments which are efficiently managed by the residents of Papermill Wharf, and all communal areas are carefully maintained and looked after.

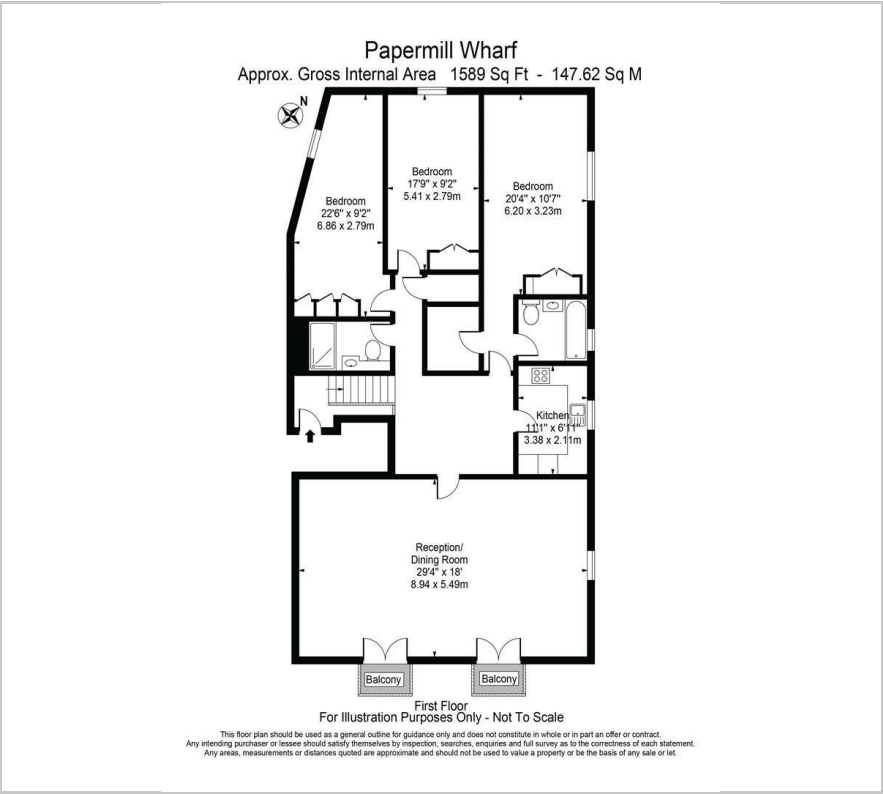

This spacious property is not only located in an historic building, Limehouse itself is steeped in history, and a walk down Narrow Street is a testament of the same. The earliest reference to the area of Limehouse, dates right back to 1356 when the district was known as "Les Lymhostes" because of its connections to lime kilns used in the pottery industries that operated from there in the 14th century. There are also a plethora of great restaurant and pubs, such as Gordon Ramsay's "The Bread Street" and part owned by Sir Ian McKellen's "The Grapes" which has been a pub site for over 500 years. You can also enjoy peaceful walks with picturesque views along the Thames Path, Limehouse Marina and the canal. Limehouse and Westferry DLR are moments away and provide excellent links to The City and Canary Wharf.
