The Listening Post Beach Road

Selsey, Chichester

Welcome to this unique and rare opportunity to own a piece of Selsey history. This eco-friendly carbon neutral home boasts a plethora of sustainable features, such as a rainwater harvesting system, air source heat pump, EV charger and 12 panel solar panel system to name a few, along with its ICF wall system construction making it a truly forward-thinking property.

As you step inside, you are greeted by three double bedrooms, a spacious kitchen breakfast room and separate living/dining room. The open-plan kitchen breakfast room offers a modern and sociable space for cooking, dining and entertaining, while the separate living/dining room provides a cosy retreat for relaxation with the backdrop of the landscaped garden. A standout feature of this property is the incorporation of a World War 1 Grade II listed sound mirror - a nod to its rich historical significance and a conversation piece for history enthusiasts. Sound mirrors were a forerunner of radar built on the south and northeast coasts of England between about 1916 and the 1930s with the intention of providing early warning of incoming enemy aircraft.

Conveniently situated within a mere 400 metres of the beach, this residence offers the perfect opportunity for seaside living and tranquil walks along the shore. The absence of an onward chain ensures a smooth and hassle-free purchasing process, allowing you to make this house your home without delay.
