This beautifully presented two-bedroom semi-detached cottage is nestled in the heart of the picturesque village of Tideswell in the Peak District. Combining traditional charm with modern comforts, the property offers a high standard of living, enhanced by its idyllic location.

Just a short walk from local amenities, including independent shops, cafes and country inns, the cottage provides an inviting village lifestyle, while the surrounding Derbyshire countryside offers abundant opportunities for outdoor pursuits. Tideswell also hosts a historic primary school and the famous church known locally as the 'Cathedral of the Peak,' adding to its rich cultural heritage.

Renovated by the present owner the cottage itself is brimming with character, with a front door leading into a dual-aspect sitting room featuring a stone wall and a cosy wood-burning stove set in a stone fireplace. This spacious room accommodates both seating and dining areas, while a latched door opens to a well-appointed kitchen. The kitchen includes a range of units, roll-edge worktops, a Belfast sink overlooking the garden and space for appliances.

Upstairs, the main bedroom is generously sized with solid wood flooring and a front-facing view, while the second bedroom enjoys a rear-facing aspect. The bathroom is well-equipped with an overhead shower, low-flush WC, pedestal wash basin and built-in storage.

The cottage's outside space is equally charming, a rear stable door opens out to a courtyard owned by the cottage but offering access to the neighbouring property & also access to the substantially large outbuilding, which offers potential for storage or further development. Steps lead up to the three tiered terraced garden, providing ample space for enjoying various seating areas, gardening opportunities and a summerhouse to appreciate the views.

The property also benefits from a rented local authority parking space.
