Saxton Mee

Market Square

£360,000

This charming 17th-century stone-built cottage offers a rare opportunity to own a beautifully presented three double bedroom home in the heart of the Peak District village of Tideswell. Positioned directly on the historic Market Square, the property enjoys a prominent and picturesque setting, surrounded by period architecture, independent shops, cafés and the renowned “Cathedral of the Peak.” The village is famed for its thriving community spirit, regular events and stunning countryside walks, making it a perfect blend of heritage, lifestyle and convenience.

Meticulously finished to a high standard by the current owner, the cottage is light, airy and spacious. A front entrance porch opens into a generous, light-filled living room with three large windows overlooking the Market Square, showcasing views of village life. This room features a built-in storage cupboard with uniquely carved doors and a fireplace, adding both character and charm. A recently installed ground floor shower room offers added practicality, while the well-equipped dining kitchen is fitted with a comprehensive range of units and appliances and centres around a striking gritstone fireplace. Beyond the kitchen, a conservatory with newly fitted blinds and double doors opens onto the delightful rear courtyard, creating a peaceful retreat.

Upstairs, the first-floor landing reveals exposed beams and original stonework, leading to a bright dual-aspect double bedroom, a further generous double bedroom, a family bathroom, and a third well-proportioned bedroom, all thoughtfully decorated to enhance the cottage's historic features while ensuring modern comfort.

To the rear, the property benefits from an easily managed courtyard perfect for outdoor dining or relaxing in a tranquil setting. Offered with no upward chain, this stunning period home combines timeless character with contemporary quality, right in the heart of one of the Peak District's most desirable villages.
