It is located in the ever-popular Westdene area, known for its excellent school catchment with outstanding Ofsted reports, and is conveniently close to Patcham Windmill and various open green spaces.

The home showcases character across four half-landings and has the potential to add an additional level, subject to the necessary planning consents.

Upon entering, you are welcomed by wooden floors underfoot and a handy entrance porch. The front living room features beautiful parquet flooring, a charming gas fireplace, and stunning rooftop views over Westdene.

The kitchen diner spans the entire rear of the property and features solid oak "Marks & Spencer" units, offering a lovely view of the predominantly laid-to-lawn garden, which is vibrant with many mature shrubs and borders.

The main bedroom is on the next level and overlooks the front, boasting a sea view due to its elevated position. The top floor features two additional bedrooms, with the larger one having an ensuite shower room, while the smaller room is currently used as an office space.

Additional highlights include private parking and a convenient garage at the entrance of the property, as well as extra storage both under the stairs and alongside the property.
