LOCATION

Nightingale Avenue occupies a particularly attractive and highly regarded position on the south side of Cambridge, enjoying a leafy and tranquil setting directly overlooking the open green space of Nightingale Recreation Ground. This peaceful no-through road is widely regarded as one of the area's most desirable residential addresses, combining a sense of seclusion with exceptional day-to-day convenience. The location is especially well suited to professionals and families alike, with Addenbrooke's Hospital and the Cambridge Biomedical Campus within a short walk or cycle, making it ideal for those working in the medical, scientific and academic sectors. Cambridge railway station is also close by, providing fast and frequent services to London King's Cross and Liverpool Street, while the city centre is easily reached by bicycle, bus or car. A good range of local amenities can be found nearby, including shops, cafés and services, with more extensive retail, cultural and dining options available in central Cambridge. For families, the area is particularly appealing, falling within the catchment for well-regarded state schools and offering easy access to some of Cambridge's most highly respected independent schools, including The Perse, St Faith's and St Mary's. The surrounding area offers excellent opportunities for outdoor recreation, with Nightingale Recreation Ground directly opposite the property, and Cherry Hinton Hall, Wandlebury Country Park and the Gog Magog Hills all close at hand, providing scenic walks, cycling routes and open countryside. For those travelling further afield, the M11 and A14 are readily accessible, ensuring convenient links to Stansted Airport, London and the wider region. Overall, Nightingale Avenue provides an exceptional combination of green open space, connectivity and proximity to Cambridge's key destinations, making it a highly desirable place to live.
