Bonhunt House is an attractive and imposing redbrick Victorian family home with expansive accommodation approaching 4,500 sqft. With high ceilings, original plasterwork cornices and ornate fireplaces, Bonhunt House is typical of Victorian architecture and design, set in stunning mature grounds bordered by a stream, and with a tennis court and a detached double garage, plus third garage space. Bonhunt House offers a grand country house of large-scale proportions, while also being perfectly arranged for family living.

Guide Price £1,500,000

LOCATION

The property is located in a picturesque setting, in the heart of the Quendon Estate, surrounded by rolling countryside. It is on the edge of Newport which has a range of amenities including a Church, village shop, pubs and restaurant, post office, GP practice, pharmacy and excellent schools. The village has its own railway station giving commuter access to London's Liverpool Street and Cambridge. Wicken Bonhunt has an active Church and many village clubs and organisations. There is a well-regarded local primary school at nearby Clavering, where there is also a useful supermarket. More comprehensive amenities are available at the fine old market town of Saffron Walden. London Stansted airport is 12 miles away.

Bonhunt House was originally known as Bonhunt Farmhouse, on the site of Bonhunt Farm and part of the Quendon Estate. Originally constructed in the 1840s as farm managers' houses for the large estates of Saffron Walden, it has been sympathetically extended and upgraded by the current owners over the past 25 years to now offer spacious accommodation while also retaining its historic charm. The house remained as a tenanted property until 1939, then was occupied by non-farm related families. In 1970 it was sold into private ownership, and three different families have owned the house since then. The names of past occupants are engraved on a windowpane in the dining room.

OUTSIDE

The property sits well within delightful, mature grounds of approximately 1.83 acres, bordered by the Wicken Water stream, which is one of the sources of the River Cam. Approached via a smart gravel drive to the front of the house, the property overlooks what is believed to be one of the oldest Anglo-Saxon chapels in the country, maintained by English Heritage. In front of the house is a smart lawned area with estate fencing, mature flowerbeds and a series of specimen trees including a number of Ulmus Bonhunt, a rare breed of elm tree known only to exist in the area. The grounds have been lovingly maintained by the current owners, incorporating a wealth of well-stocked flower and shrub borders, mature trees and a natural stone terrace for al fresco entertaining. The gardens are mainly laid to lawn, with a tennis court, sizeable pond and a substantial detached double garage and timber shed behind, with a further single garage located near the side lobby with timber doors, power and light. There is potential for rental of 5 acres of adjacent grazing land. The property is well-placed for commuters, being only a short distance from Audley End and Newport train stations and conveniently located for access to Stansted Airport.
