A pretty thatched home next to the green, a shop with great potential footfall, outbuildings for storage and potential conversion, a sheltered courtyard and private garden – this home has it all! For many years a family home and family business, this comes to the market for the first time in decades. Much loved and cared for, it has a wonderfully friendly feel and so much potential.

A Warm Welcome

This pretty thatched period property is attached to a former butcher's shop that's well known within the welcoming village of Martham, on the Norfolk Broads. The owner started working for the Chapman family butchers when he left school, and when the Chapmans retired, he bought the business and the house and moved in, renovating the house from top to bottom – and has been here ever since. The owners have raised their four children here too and it's worked so well as a family home, adapting to their changing needs over the decades. "It's a great place to raise kids – they can walk to school, head off on their bikes, go fishing, meet friends, go to the park. There's something for all ages here."

KEY FEATURES

Family Friendly

The main part of the house has a very generous sitting room that's great for family occasions and entertaining, leading into a formal dining room, which in turn sits next to the breakfast kitchen. There's another reception, currently used as a music room, that would make an excellent playroom. Upstairs, there are four good size bedrooms and a family bathroom. The whole house was thatched with water reed from nearby Hickling Broad just two years ago, and with care this should last for around 50 years. There's a courtyard with parking, numerous outbuildings, a purpose built smokehouse and there's also a private area of garden that the owners have screened with hedges. You have space for children to play, to invite friends over for a barbecue and to enjoy al-fresco dining. "We've had a lot of happy times here, celebrating birthdays, Christmases, New Year parties and more. It's a welcoming place with plenty of room for guests, as well as us and our four children."

Income Options

The shop itself faces out towards the green and the duck pond and has a number of storage and prep rooms, in addition to fridge and freezer areas. There's so much potential here if you want to run a business, as you're in the heart of the village where many people will be able to see the frontage, and there's parking and a lot of goodwill towards the property too. The stables come with planning permission for a two-bedroom holiday let and the works have started, so the permission will remain valid. The Great Yarmouth Borough Council planning portal reference is 06/13/0097/F. The area is close to the Norfolk Broads and to Winterton-on-Sea, so it's a great area for tourism and no doubt a holiday let would bring in a healthy additional income. You can embrace village life here too, with schools, shops, takeaways and more on the doorstep. Every year the Christmas tree on the green sits in front of the property, the carnival goes past and there's a scarecrow trail each autumn.
