Simply Superb

The owners were looking for a relaxed pace of life and safe place in which to raise their family when they came here. They had looked as far away as Scotland, keen to leave the hustle and bustle of city life behind and embrace fresh air and country living. When they found this, it had recently been renovated to a high standard, and they were delighted to find somewhere with the character features they find so charming yet no work to be done. Stepping in through the large solid oak front door, they felt instantly at home. It's been a very happy home ever since, with the owners hosting big family Christmases here, 18th and 40th birthday parties, New Year's Eve celebrations and so much more. You have a wonderful mix of well-proportioned character rooms in the oldest parts of the property and amazing open plan areas that flow effortlessly, so there's room to gather, but also to find a quiet corner.

Plenty Of Personality

After some time living here, the owners decided to add a rear extension, creating a new kitchen. As they love entertaining, they designed it with three cookers, a 'cool wall' with a Caple fridge, wine fridge and freezer, plus a huge kitchen island where people can congregate. They have also designed the room to make the most of the outlook over the garden and down to the woodland beyond, so it's a beautiful setting – and there's a walk-in larder to excite any keen cook. The owners have decorated the house throughout in soft, calming and neutral colours, bringing in warmth and texture through their furnishings, so it's a blank canvas ready and waiting for its new owners, and feels wonderfully calming throughout. The neutral colours also allow the original features to shine, with inglenook and art deco fireplaces, a Tudor serving hatch, split level flooring and more, all adding to the property's personality.

Well Positioned For Everything

You have around 4.4 acres here, with formal gardens, woodland, paddock and ample parking. The position of the house makes the most of the setting, with spectacular views across the garden whichever room you're in. Once settled, you won't want to leave, but when you do head out you'll find this a very convenient location. You're just a short drive from Norwich and near the A14 for travel to Diss and Ipswich. There are some excellent fine dining establishments close by, plus various sports and leisure pursuits in the village itself. If you love the countryside, you'll be delighted to know that the historic Boudicca Way is on the doorstep, perfect for walking your dog or heading out on a bike ride. If that all sounds a bit too active, why not attend the village social club or head to the annual gin and beer festival? Whenever you come back home, you'll feel yourself relax, just you and the wildlife once more.

Available By Separate Negotiation

Gardener's Lodge is a gorgeous barn, renovated in 2015 with great attention to detail. The owners have found this to make a very successful holiday let, with two bedrooms, plus a delightful private walled garden. There's also a separate annexe adjoining the lodge, which has a kitchen and bathroom and large open room that would be perfect for running a business from home, for studio space or for an older child living at home. When the owners' family have visited and stayed in the cottage or annexe, they have commented on how relaxing they find it and how much they love watching the wildlife and soaking up the stillness. The lodge and annexe would come with nearly 1 acre and has its own gated entrance from the carriage driveway. The guide price for lodge and annexe is £500,000 - £550,000.
