Make your way down the quiet lane, away from main roads but so well connected, and you'll find this pretty character property. The carriage drive and cream frontage gives it plenty of kerb appeal, while the spacious interior offers cosy beamed areas alongside bright and airy spaces. Glorious landscaped gardens and a standalone cottage or holiday let enhance this property's already great appeal.

The Perfect Blend Of Old And New

The oldest part of the house dates back to around 1785 and has lovely oak timbers and a stunning inglenook fireplace so typical of the period. A sympathetic extension was added around 75 years ago, doubling the footprint of the house and creating a wonderful family property. The current owners fell in love with the character and the welcoming feel and spent their first years here carrying out a programme of upgrading and improving the house, with a new boiler, new bath and shower rooms, log burners, rewiring, adding French doors, landscaping the garden, building a bespoke summerhouse and more. The biggest change has been opening up the dining room into the kitchen to provide one large entertaining area, with a beautiful and high quality hand-painted bespoke kitchen, but more on that later...

Easy Living

You enter into an attractive reception room that would make an excellent formal dining room or comfortable library. The main sitting room is found to one side, with the gorgeous inglenook housing a log burner. The owners love spending winter evenings here, curled up in front of the fire, and it's a really good size room for a family too.

KEY FEATURES

Both the sitting room and reception hall have access onto the large conservatory, with double doors from the sitting room enabling you to bring the outside in. The conservatory is fabulous – a really large room with a beautiful outlook over the landscaped gardens beyond. The owners eat most of their meals in here in the spring and summer, making the most of the lovely weather and watching the wildlife. To the other side of the reception hall is the open plan dining room and kitchen. This is easily large enough for both seating and dining areas. The kitchen has quartz worktops, two sinks, an integrated fridge, freezer and two washing machines, as well as a dishwasher. One of the owners is a keen cook and loves spending time here with family and friends, whipping up tasty meals that everyone can enjoy together. French doors lead out onto one of the patios, so it's a great space all year round, again with a wood burner in the dining area and a breakfast bar in the kitchen. Upstairs, four double bedrooms share the two bathrooms, so when the owners have friends and family to stay, they can stay at opposite ends of the house with separate bathrooms and everyone feels nice and private.

A Lovely Location

Outside, a former chicken shed was converted into a separate detached cottage, which has been used as a holiday let for years and has provided the current owners and those before them with an excellent and very useful income. It has its own private garden and access, so it doesn't disturb the owners at all. Recently renovated, it would also be perfect for adult children living at home, elderly parents who want to live on one floor, or even as guest accommodation. The owners love spending as much time as they can outside and have been pleasantly surprised by how peaceful it is here. You back onto fields and this means there's a lot of bird- and wildlife to see. There are three separate patios within the plot of 0.6 acres, designed to catch the sun throughout the day, as well as a summerhouse and storage for your ride-on mower. Head out from the front door and you can go for miles along pathways and quiet lanes, walking your dogs or going for a run. The owners again see a lot of wildlife, such as deer, hares and pheasants. The village is within walking distance and Dereham, with its supermarket, shops, library and high schools, is just a five-minute drive. Norwich is only half an hour away.

A single-story cottage with a red-tiled roof and cream-colored walls. It features a blue front door, a large multi-paned window on the left, and a set of white-framed glass doors on the right. The house is surrounded by a green lawn and a wooden fence. In the background, there are trees and a blue sky with clouds. A small plaque with the text "Clinton Cottage" is visible in the top right corner.
