"The house lets in a lot of natural light, which makes every room feel like a calm space during the day time. It's stunning to wake up to it pouring through the bay windows every morning. Even when the weather is dim, the house feels light. I spent a lot of time in the garden, it's a lovely space to be in the summer, quiet and calm with small birds flitting about the trees. I loved evenings eating in the dining room with the glass door wide open to sounds of summer."

Once a year we close the road off for a family friendly street party put on by residents with food and music and games. The location couldn't be more ideal. I would often wander back via the No12 Cafe where the staff are so friendly, and pick up a treat from the Kurdish bakery around the corner. If you need a break, tucked away behind St Mark's road is a little community maintained garden where I would hide among the flowers."
