"We've absolutely loved living in our home on Seneca Street for the past eight years. This home has been a true labour of love—we've poured our hearts into transforming it into a warm, welcoming space that's full of character and charm. One of our favourite features is the south-west facing garden, which enjoys sunlight from morning until evening. It's a peaceful spot to unwind, with thriving berry plants and a greenhouse that's perfect for your horticultural needs. The street has a genuine sense of community, and we often enjoy spending time chatting with our friendly neighbours. We also love being nestled between two beautiful iconic green spaces—Troopers Hill and St George's Park. We will be very sad to leave our wonderful home and we hope that it makes someone else as happy as it has made us over the years."
