Looking for a stylish apartment in the heart of Hastings Old Town? This one-bedroom flat in Roebuck House combines modern interiors with a setting full of local character and history.

Positioned on the second floor of a converted building former doctor's surgery, the apartment offers a clean, modern finish throughout. The layout features a bright open-plan kitchen and living area, complete with herringbone flooring, fitted units, and space for both dining and relaxing. Large windows give a great outlook across the rooftops of the Old Town, capturing a real sense of place.

The bedroom is a good size with room for storage and a double bed, while the bathroom has a simple, crisp design with modern fittings. Thought has been given to the overall finish, with neutral tones and well-considered lighting helping to make the most of the space.

Roebuck House sits right on the High Street, placing the shops, pubs, cafés, and coastline all within easy reach. As part of a converted building, the flat has a bit more character than a typical new build but benefits from the same level of finish and convenience.

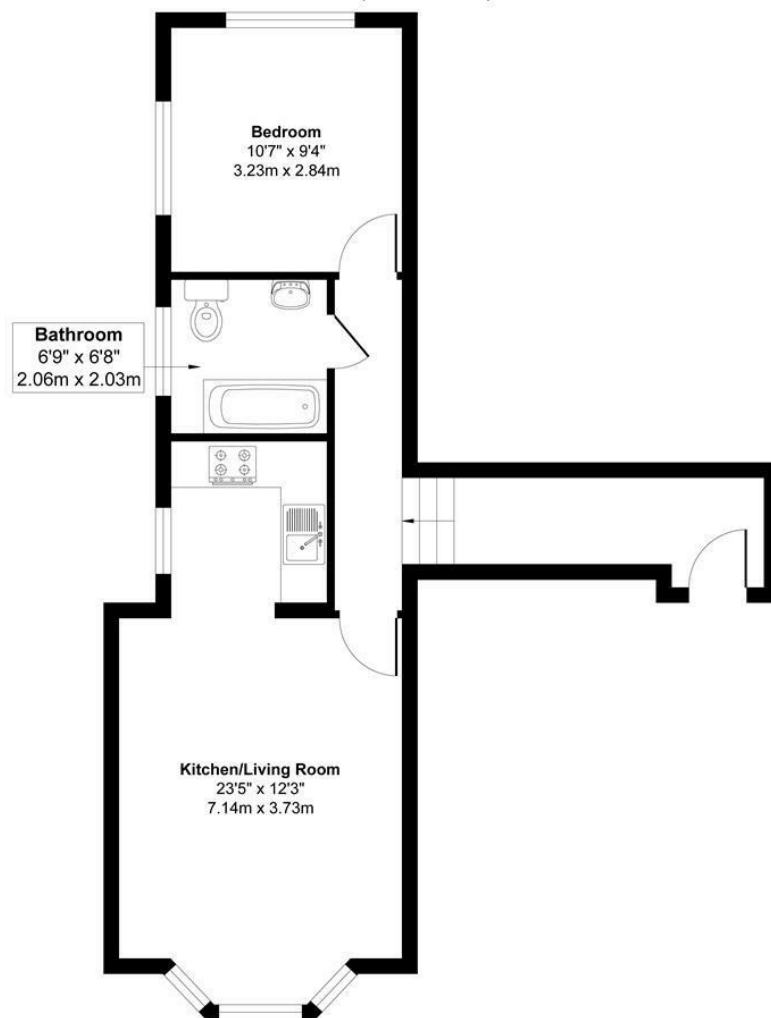

A solid option for anyone wanting a low-maintenance home or pied-à-terre close to the sea, in a part of town where flats like this are not often available.
