5 Trevibban Barton is a beautifully crafted residential barn conversion, forming part of a charming and exclusive development at Trevibban Barton Farm. Set around a central courtyard, this small collection of homes enjoys a peaceful and private setting, surrounded by rolling open countryside, just a short drive from the popular harbour town of Padstow.

Trevibban Barton Barns sits adjacent to the impressive Trevibban Mill Cornish Vineyard and Barnaby's Restaurant.

The conversion has been completed to an outstanding standard, combining traditional character with high-quality contemporary finishes throughout. Great care has been taken to preserve the barn's original features, resulting in a home of rare charm and distinction.

Among its many noteworthy features are exposed structural timbers, beamed ceilings, and substantial stone walls that evoke the building's heritage. Hardwood double-glazed windows are complemented by deep slate window ledges and solid wood sills, adding depth and warmth to each room. A combination of oak flooring and Hessian carpet runs throughout much of the interior, while solid latched doors with traditional wrought iron ironmongery enhance the authentic country feel.

Arranged in a modern reverse living style, the accommodation has been thoughtfully designed to make the most of natural light and character features. The main living area is positioned on the first floor, offering a wonderfully inviting space with a high ceiling, exposed original beams and an abundance of natural light. There is ample room for comfortable seating and occasional furniture, creating a relaxed ambience. Stairs descend to the ground floor bedrooms. An opening leads through to the kitchen, which continues the same sense of light and space, with high ceilings, original beams and Velux windows that flood the room with daylight.
