PARTICULARS OF SALE

Marked with a datestone of 1814, High Butterwitts is an attractive smallholding with a Georgian farmhouse that was the base for a commercial stock farm. Positioned high on a south-facing slope, overlooking the upper Esk Valley between Lealholm and Danby, the property enjoys splendid views over open fields up towards the moors.

The property comprises a farmhouse with adjoining traditional buildings offering scope to extend the existing accommodation, or develop further ranges of general purpose buildings ideal for livestock but with potential for alternate use, if required and a block of productive grassland running from Oakley Walls on the edge of Danby Moor down into the floor of the Esk Valley.

The Farmhouse

A traditional stone and tile farmhouse, the property was refurbished and modernized by the current owners to include uPVC double glazing and oil fueled central heating. The accommodation lies over 3 floors and includes 5 bedrooms and 2 reception rooms, plus a dining kitchen.

The front door opens into a hallway with a WC cloakroom to the rear, and doorways opening into the lounge and kitchen. The kitchen has a second front door and is fitted with a modern style suite of cabinets, with a tiled floor and positions for a range style oven. At the rear of the room a door opens into a walk-in larder store cupboard.

The lounge has a window to the front and a fireplace with a multi-fuel stove and a window to the front. Doors, at the rear, open onto an enclosed stair to the first floor and to an understairs store cupboard. A final door opens through into the sitting room, with gas flame effect fire and windows to the front and side.

The staircase rises to a spacious first floor landing with another stair rising up to the second floor and doors opening to all the main bedrooms. The master bedroom is a double with a window to the front. There is a second double bedroom, also to the front, plus additional single bedrooms – one to the rear, and another to the front.

On the first floor there is also a house bathroom with a window to the front, fitted with a panel bath and a wash basin set in a vanity unit. To the rear there is a separate WC cloakroom and a separate laundry room which was formerly a bathroom but is now fitted with points for an automatic washing machine and tumble dryer, and which could revert to being an additional bathroom, if required.

The stairs rise from the first floor landing to a second floor landing with a Velux roof-light to the rear and doorways opening into a double bedroom with a window in the gable on one end, and a large storage attic space at the other. This second floor level has been measured between the purlins and the overall size of the rooms is larger but parts have limited height.

Outside

The house has a yard area across the front and a garden at the end of the building with a wooden summerhouse.

The Farm Land

High Butterwitts Farm extends in total to approximately 24.97 acres (10.10 hectares) plus the farmstead.

The land lies directly to the North and South of the farmstead, with 1 field of approximately 8.4 acres lying to the South in the Valley floor, being level land capable of being mown. There are then a further 2 fields of approximately 1.75 acres directly below the farmstead, which are sloping rough grazing and scrub and finally 4 fields above the farmstead to the North, extending to approximately 13.6 acres of sloping grassland which stretches to the Dales road.

All of the land is down to permanent pasture and ranges from fertile mowing land to more sloping, grazing land, which is all typical of the area. All field boundaries are a combination of dry-stone walls together with post and wire fences, which are in reasonable condition and on the whole are stock proof. Water is supplied to fields via both private springs and a mains supply from the farmstead. In recent times all of the land has been let out under a gentleman's agreement to a local farmer which confers no security of tenure and has been utilised for normal mowing and grazing purposes.

Farm Buildings

The farm buildings lie to the East and West of the farmhouse and were all formerly fully utilised in agricultural production. In more recent times they have provided useful storage and equine space. The numbering below refers to the buildings as marked on the plan.
