GENERAL

"Little Stocking" is an impressive house dating from the 1930s located in one of Kirby Muxloe's most exclusive roads. The house sits on an exceptional south facing plot extending to approximately 0.3 acres. The house was originally constructed in the 1930's as the home of one of Leicester's most renowned solicitors and the current owners are only the second family to live there. Although the house has been constantly upgraded and improved over the years, some fine period features have been preserved including the original servant's bell panel, which is still in working order. The most recent upgrades to the property include being completely re-wired, new double glazed windows, new boiler and fitted carpets. The accommodation briefly comprises on the ground floor, a sitting room, dining room and breakfast room all of which overlook the garden. There is also a superb kitchen which has recently been refitted. On the first floor there are four double bedrooms including a master bedroom with en-suite and dressing room. The gardens have been beautifully landscaped with a magnificent raised terrace adjoining the house. There are three garages and an impressive in and out drive.

Planning permission has been granted (Ref 21/0934/HH) to extend over the garage and out at the rear. It should be noted that this consent expires in November 2024.
