Cucklington Wincanton

Asking Price
£650,000

A delightful detached four bedroom period stone cottage sitting in grounds extending to over a third of an acre, boasting spectacular far-reaching views spanning over 23 miles of Somerset countryside and offering around 1900 sq. ft (178 sq. m) of living space. The property is located in the desirable and sought after unspoilt village of Cucklington, which lies in the county of Somerset, bordering North Dorset and lies about 3 miles from Wincanton and 4 miles from Gillingham, which has a mainline train station and both offering excellent amenities and schooling. The property occupies a quiet lane side and elevated position and is just a short walk to St Lawrence's church and to the view point, which is definitely worth a visit, with the village hall a little further on where many events take place.

The original part of the cottage dates to 1740 with historic modern day additions that offers ample space for today's comfortable living expectations. There are many character features, which include an inglenook fireplace with a boat's hull serving as a beam, exposed beams and deep window sills plus a fireplace with a burner that adds a cosy feel, perfect for those chilly evenings. The AGA in the kitchen adds a traditional touch and next to it is certainly the place to be in the depth of winter. Not only does this cottage offer historical charm, but it also features modern amenities such as wholly owned solar panels for energy efficiency, uPVC double glazing with a Georgian style bar and has the potential to reinstate a shower room to suit your needs.

Outside, the terraced garden provides a tranquil retreat where you can unwind and enjoy the beauty of nature and the breath-taking view. With over a third of an acre at your disposal, there's plenty of space for entertaining and gardening enthusiasts.

A viewing is essential to truly appreciate this special home and what it offers.

The Property

Accommodation

Inside

Ground Floor

The property is approached from the lane via double wrought iron gates that open to gentle steps that rise to the storm porch and front door. The front door opens into an L shaped welcoming entrance hall with space for a study area, stairs rising to the first floor and doors to the cloakroom, which could be re-converted to a shower room and to the sitting room. This enjoys a double aspect with window to the side and overlooking the front garden. There is also a paned glass door that opens to the frontage. The sitting room provides plenty of comfortable space and has an exposed beam and fireplace with wood burner. A paned glass door opens into a spacious dining room - the original part of the cottage - with windows overlooking the front garden and a fabulous inglenook fireplace with arched beam - taken from a boat's hull. There is a staircase to the first floor, five steps rise to a latch door that opens into a generously sized kitchen and breakfast room with windows to the front, taking in a partial rural view and door to the utility/boot room, which opens to the front and has plumbing for a washing machine. The kitchen is fitted with a range of floor and eye level cupboards, separate drawer units and built in cupboards with shelves. There is an Aga with choice of oven and two hot plates. There is also a Victorian style clothes airer and the oil fired central heating boiler and programmer.

First Floor

There are two separate staircases to the first floor. From the entrance hall stairs rise to the main bedroom suite where there is a shower room and large double bedroom with built in wardrobes and windows to the front taking in a beautiful partial view over the Somerset countryside. A door opens into a wardrobe, which provides access to the other part of the house and into bedroom two. Stairs from the dining room rise to the other part of the house where there is a split level landing with doors to all rooms. There is a bathroom, single bedroom with wash hand basin and two double bedrooms, both with wardrobes and views to the front of the Somerset countryside.

Outside

Garage

The large single garage has a remote control door, fitted with light and power plus rafter storage and widens at the end. (5.44 m x 3.07 m widening to 4.09 m - 17'10" x 10'1" - 13'5").

Gardens

The gardens lie to the rear of the property and extend to over a third of an acre. They have been beautifully landscaped and terraced for easier maintenance. There is a paved seating area surrounded by shrubs and trees and leads to a grassy area plus stone steps rising to a further part of the garden where there are espalier apple trees and another lawn. There is also a small copse that with management could be incorporated into the garden and a useful and usable space. The garden enjoys a sunny aspect with an exceptional degree of privacy and boasts one of the most spectacular and enviable views over the Somerset countryside.
