This detached village home sits comfortably within its setting and offers a sense of ease from the moment you arrive. The house is well built and well considered, with generous room sizes, good natural light and a layout that simply works for everyday life. It's the sort of home that feels straightforward to live in, whether you're busy with family life or enjoying a quieter pace.

The living spaces flow naturally, with areas that feel practical yet welcoming, and a kitchen and dining space that naturally becomes part of daily routines. Upstairs, the bedrooms are calm and well proportioned, with the principal bedroom enjoying the benefit of its own en-suite, creating a private space to retreat to at the end of the day.

The village itself has a friendly, settled feel, with a strong sense of community and easy access to surrounding countryside. Walks, Pubs, open spaces and rural lanes are close at hand, while nearby towns provide a wider choice of shops, schools and transport links. It's a location that offers both connection and breathing space.

Outside, the south-facing terrace and garden provide a pleasant extension of the living space, somewhere to sit, relax and enjoy the quieter moments of the day. Offered with no onward chain, this is a home that feels ready to welcome its next owners and be enjoyed for many years to come.

The Property

Accommodation

Inside

The accommodation is arranged over two floors and offers a sense of space and balance from the moment you enter. The entrance hall provides a welcoming first impression and gives access to the principal ground-floor rooms, with a natural flow that works well for both everyday life and entertaining.

The sitting room enjoys a comfortable atmosphere, with good natural light and proportions that allow for a variety of furniture arrangements. A second reception room offers additional flexibility, providing a useful space that can adapt to changing needs over time while remaining distinct from the main living area.

The kitchen/dining room forms the heart of the home and has been designed as a sociable, functional space. With ample room for a dining table, it works equally well for family meals or more informal gatherings. A practical utility area and ground-floor WC add to the overall convenience and help keep the main living spaces uncluttered.

Upstairs, the bedroom accommodation is well laid out and evenly proportioned. The principal bedroom benefits from an en-suite shower room, creating a private and comfortable retreat. The remaining bedrooms are served by a modern family bathroom, finished in a clean, contemporary style. Throughout the house, the emphasis is on light, simplicity and ease of living.

The kitchen is fitted with modern units and integrated AEG appliances, offering a streamlined and contemporary appearance. Work surfaces provide generous preparation space, while the layout allows for easy movement and day-to-day practicality. The dining area sits naturally within the room, making this a welcoming space to gather without feeling overly formal.

Outside

Outside, the property enjoys a south-facing terrace which provides a pleasant extension of the living space during warmer months. This area works well for outdoor seating or dining and benefits from good levels of natural light throughout the day.

The garden has been designed with ease of maintenance in mind, allowing enjoyment without the demands of extensive upkeep. The overall setting feels private while still being well connected to the surrounding village.
