- 5 Bedrooms
- Central location
- Garden
- Period Features
- Bespoke Kitchen & Bathroom by Stringers of Whitby

Hendersons welcome you to this beautifully renovated four-bedroom townhouse, situated in the highly sought-after Esk Terrace, Whitby. This elegant property has been finished to an exceptional standard, offering a perfect blend of contemporary style and classic charm. Built in 1860 and lived in by a members of the Brown family from 1886 through to 1993, this property is steeped in History and a local resident talked fondly of Joe Brown cooking Yorkshire puddings on the original Collier & Sons range oven, which is still in situ today.

Inside, you'll find spacious living areas filled with natural light, modern fixtures, and high-quality finishes throughout. Each bedroom is generously sized, providing comfort and versatility for family living or hosting guests. The fully updated kitchen and bathroom add a touch of luxury, while retaining a warm, inviting atmosphere. It should be noted that both the kitchen and bathroom were completed by stringers of Whitby, who have a great reputation for quality.

The property benefits from a private parking space, a rarity in this desirable location, and boasts stunning views over Whitby Harbour and the picturesque town beyond. Whether you're enjoying the sights from the comfort of your home or taking a short walk to the bustling harbour, this is an ideal location to experience everything Whitby has to offer.
