Dalgarno Gardens, W10

A three bedroom, mid terraced freehold family home in North Kensington, with a large South facing garden and scope for extension, subject to the usual consents.

Entered via the private front garden into the hallway, with a separate kitchen and double reception room, each leading to the mature, lawned South facing garden, making an ideal entertaining space for a growing family.

Upstairs there are three bedrooms and a well appointed family bathroom. The property is well presented throughout and features include walnut wooden flooring, a separate utility room and wooden framed double glazing.

There's precedent locally for scope to extend on the ground floor and into the loft, to create an open plan kitchen / reception room and an en suite principal bedroom - subject to the usual consents.

Dalgarno Gardens is a tree lined residential road, with convenient transport links across London from Ladbroke Grove and Kensal Green. There's plenty of local shops and restaurants on Portobello Road, Golborne Road and Chamberlayne Road and the green spaces of Wormwood Scrubs are close by.
