Entry to the property is gained via a solid wooden door with Belmont House

scribed above. Stepping through, a hall with Victorian floor tiles, high ceilings and dado rail welcomes you in. The inviting living room, where a grand bay window bathes the space in natural light. Classic cornicing, soft sage-green walls, and a feature fireplace with wood-burning stove create a cosy yet elegant atmosphere.

Flowing through to the dining room, you'll find another generously proportioned space, brimming with personality. Coral-toned walls and eclectic touches give this room a cheerful, artistic energy. Large windows offer views to the rear garden, and there's ample space for a full dining set or even a creative workspace.

Next, the charming galley kitchen offers a mix of rustic and modern appeal. With natural wooden cabinetry, butler sink, exposed stonework and white-painted flooring, the kitchen is both functional and full of character. String lights and colourful accents add a touch of playfulness, while windows on either side flood the room with light.

At the rear, a lobby area leads to a convenient shower room. Thoughtfully designed, this space doubles as a utility area, with built-in cabinetry, worktop space, and plumbing for a washing machine. . The lobby also leads into the garden room, a tranquil space perfect as a reading nook, plant conservatory or hobby room.

Double doors open directly onto the secluded garden, a leafy stone-paved oasis framed by mature greenery and climbing vines. It's an ideal spot for sunny lunches or evening drinks under the stars.

Heading upstairs, you'll find three beautifully appointed bedrooms. The principal bedroom at the front of the house is a bold and elegant space, finished in rich red tones with high ceilings, decorative cornicing, and a feature fireplace with ornate tiling.

The large window brings in ample light, making it both a restful and uplifting room.

Just across the hall, the second bedroom (currently set up with twin beds) offers leafy garden views and a soft green palette that creates a serene feel. Original features like the cast iron fireplace and deep skirting boards continue the home's charming character.

The family bathroom on this floor is a showstopper: spacious, bright and stylishly finished. A freestanding roll-top bath takes centre stage, flanked by a stone feature wall and contemporary fittings. With dual windows, a generous sink area, and natural tones throughout, it's a space that feels luxurious yet relaxed — ideal for long soaks and slow mornings.

Upstairs again, the top floor offers two further rooms full of potential. One is a generous double with sloped ceilings and crisp white walls — a quiet retreat with room to spread out. The other is currently used as a creative studio, complete with sunny aspect window, worktops and storage — a dream setup for artists, remote workers or teens craving their own space.
