A superb opportunity to acquire this imposing five bedroom Victorian property, The Old Rectory, dated 1860, located in the highly desirable village of Barnoldby Le Beck. Occupying a wonderful private position in total of 1.26 acres, with views of St. Helen's church and overlooking its own extensive lawned gardens and grounds, and countryside beyond. Offering characterful, versatile and well proportioned accommodation ideal for family living and entertaining. A truly unique sanctuary of a home!

Internally the house offers a wealth of period features including shuttered sash windows, fine marble fireplaces, hard wood floors, high ceilings, cornices, original bell system, and cast iron radiators.

Leading off the spacious Reception Hall is the elegant dual aspect Lounge and adjoining Dining Room - both featuring open marble fireplaces, the dining room opening out to the side garden. The third reception room, the rectory's Library has a further marble fireplace incorporating a wood burning stove, and deep front aspect bay window. To the rear the Kitchen/Breakfast Room features a large range of bespoke cabinetry, and includes granite worktops, a nine burner range cooker with hand painted tiled splashback, and brick fireplace incorporating a wood burning stove. Completing the ground floor is the Utility Room, Boiler Room and Two Cloakrooms - one of which has access to the Wine Cellar.

The first floor of the property opens from a central landing to the four generously sized bedrooms, a fifth bedroom which is currently used as a study, and a family bathroom. The master bedroom boasts a large range of fitted storage, with dressing area, and a traditional en-suite bathroom featuring a cast iron canopy shower bath.

The current owners have continually maintained the property to enjoy the living arrangements, however the property benefits from not being listed resulting in opportunities to extend and remodel the house subject to planning.
