STEPHENSON BROWNE

Located on King Street in Cross Heath, Newcastle, this three-bedroom semi-detached home presents a fantastic opportunity for families, first-time buyers, or investors alike.

Upon entering, you're greeted by a spacious entrance hallway that sets a warm and welcoming tone. The true heart of the home is the large reception room, currently arranged as a split living and dining area, perfect for relaxing or entertaining. This bright, versatile space also benefits from fitted storage options and French doors that open out to the rear garden, creating a seamless flow between indoor and outdoor living.

The kitchen offers a practical layout with plenty of scope for personalization, while useful understairs storage helps keep the home neat and organized.

Upstairs, there are three well-proportioned bedrooms, two generous doubles and a third smaller room, ideal as a study, nursery, or single bedroom. Bedroom two features fitted wardrobes, providing excellent built-in storage. The family bathroom includes a heated towel rail and a clean, functional layout.

Outside, the property benefits from off-road parking for up to two cars at the front, while the rear garden offers a lovely outdoor space, perfect for enjoying sunny days, gardening, or simply unwinding after a long day.

While the property would benefit from some general maintenance and modernisation, it holds superb potential as a family project or buy-to-let investment thanks to its desirable location near the university and hospital.

This semi-detached house on King Street isn't just a property, it's a home full of potential. With its spacious layout, fitted features, and convenient setting in a friendly neighborhood, it's sure to appeal to a wide range of buyers.
