Currently operating as a successful holiday let in one of the Island's most picturesque villages, West View is peacefully located next to the pretty twelfth-century St. Peter's Church, and a host of local amenities are on the doorstep including a popular country pub with its freshwater stream, a handy shop with a post office, and a recreation ground with a playground. The historic Northcourt House and Wolverton Manor are also located in the village and offer a host of summer activities and events, including summer fetes and family friendly festivals.
