Upgraded by the current owners, Ingleton has been transformed into a cool contemporary family home, presented in a fabulous style that perfectly complements the many period features and traditional character of the original building. The property was extended in 2018 to create a modern, flowing layout, and in the same year was re-plastered, rewired and had a brand-new heating system including boiler plus the addition of stunning cast iron radiators. Most windows have also been replaced, the loft has been insulated to benefit efficiency, and the property also comes complete with a luxurious Everhot 60, used for cooking on and drying clothes. Accommodation in this wonderful home comprises a cosy living room, a dining room with separate utility area, a kitchen, a bathroom and a snug with doors to the garden on the ground floor, with three bedrooms, all with stunning views, on the first-floor.

Ingleton is set in an enviable location, just a stone's throw from the old steam railway line that is now a famous walking and riding trail that connects to a larger network of impressive rural and coastal footpaths and bridleways that criss-cross the spectacular West-Wight. The historic harbour town of Yarmouth is within short walking distance, and provides a whole host of local amenities, including a choice of pubs and restaurants in the main square, overlooked by a 17th Century church. Yarmouth also has a substantial harbour with mooring options and continues on to the Western Yar estuary which Ingleton looks over. There is also a regular vehicle ferry crossing to Lymington, and the town is served by a Southern Vectis bus service which connects to the rest of the Island.

Welcome to Ingleton

From popular and quiet Station Road, a path leads through the front garden and on to the beautiful façade of Ingleton. To the side, a path connects to the rear garden, passing an immaculately presented front door, which creates a welcoming entrance to the property.

Entrance Lobby

The quality of the property is immediately apparent from the entrance lobby, which has gorgeous stripped pine floorboards and fresh white décor. A staircase leads to the first floor, and attractive period doors lead to the living room and dining room.

Living Room

The white décor and stripped pine floors continue into the living room, which has a large box-bay window to the front aspect which fills the room with natural light. A red-brick chimney breast adds character, and is home to a woodburning stove set on a slate hearth, and built-in cupboards and shelves to the alcoves provide useful additional storage.

Dining Room

11'9" x 11'3" (3.60m x 3.45m)

The dining room is full of character, with a period style cast fireplace on a hearth and with a timber surround, which complements the stripped pine floors, a traditional style pine door which leads to the utility area, and a pine door to a usefully large understairs cupboard. The dining room also benefits from a pair of built-in cupboards and a bookshelf, plus a window to the side aspect. An open archway leads to the kitchen.

The L-shaped bathroom is well designed to maximise the available space, and is presented in a combination of neutral wall-tiles, white walls and the decorative floor tiles which flow through from the snug to create continuity. There is a window to the side aspect, a heated chrome towel rail and the suite comprises a full-size bath with rainfall shower over, a contemporary basin with a mixer tap and a matching wall mounted WC complete with concealed cistern.

Bedroom Three

10'0" x 7'9" (3.05m x 2.38m)

Another good-size bedroom, with a built-in bed complete with wood panelling and storage, white décor and painted floorboards, and a window to the rear aspect with wonderful estuary views.

Outside

A path connects the paved front garden to the rear garden via a secure side gate. The rear garden features a paved terrace that spans the new extension, creating a perfect outside dining or seating area. Fencing and beautiful mature planting enhance privacy, and steps down from the terrace leads down on to a lawn area with raised beds to one side. A gravel path leads to a large shed and an additional potting shed which provide useful storage. A further lawn is home to mature trees and is enclosed with well established hedging, and to one end there is a fantastic shepherd's hut, added in 2017 and providing an additional garden room, fully insulated and complete with electric.

Ingleton presents a rare opportunity to purchase a beautifully presented family home, updated in a chic style that sympathetically complements the character of the original building, and set in the most fantastic location in popular Yarmouth.
