Living Here

Number 2 The Sycamores, our home, we have loved living here for the last five and a half years. Moving to a beautiful picturesque village in the heart of the South Leicestershire countryside was the dream. Over the first two years we slowly renovated the bathroom, En-suite and downstairs cloakroom to fit with our lifestyle choices using modern, sleek and up to date touches to fit with rest of the home. The flow of our home from sitting room to the large kitchen diner and into the colonial style feel conservatory feels just right. Plenty of space to host family, friends and neighbours. In the summertime we throw open both sets of double doors between these rooms and the French doors out into the garden making it a perfect party/barbeque entertainment space. Conversely, during the winter we close the doors and enjoy the cozy aspects of the lovely log burner, making winter a warmer season all round. A lovely welcoming community awaits the buyer, and The Sycamores residents have a close neighbourhood vibe. South Kilworth has an active social calendar if that is what appeals; if not, then that is equally okay. Lose yourselves on one of the many countryside walks in the area, including around the reservoir, across the fields, alongside the canals or down the public footpaths, the local countryside is both breathtaking and beautiful.
