"This has been a family home in which our children have grown up. They have each benefited from the large bedrooms and was always the house where their friends came to socialise and play. We have special memories of large gazebos in the garden for 18th birthday parties. The gardens and grounds have been superb for us over the years, and having the secure gated off-road parking for our boat, motorhome and three or more additional cars has been ideal. In around 2012, we significantly invested in state of the art period building insulation works, this has given us a wonderfully insulated family home, which retains the heat superbly, and does not get too hot in the Summer."
