Guide Price £625,000

A distinguished and substantial three-storey semi-detached residence, dating from circa 1857 and built in the elegant Italianate architectural style. This fine period home retains a wealth of original classical features characteristic of the era, beautifully blended with a range of modern comforts, offering a unique combination of charm, character, and contemporary living.

Generously proportioned throughout, the property is currently arranged as a spacious two-storey main house with a self-contained lower ground floor apartment — easily reconfigured to form a single, expansive family home thanks to the retention of the original internal staircase.

Main House (Ground and First Floors):

The ground floor is entered via a traditional entrance porch and welcoming hallway, leading to a generously sized rear sitting room featuring a wide bay window, focal feature fireplace, and elegant double doors opening into a large dining room. The dining room enjoys a broad side bay window and access to the sun terrace and beautifully maintained garden — ideal for entertaining or al fresco dining. A well-appointed kitchen/breakfast room and a useful cloakroom/WC complete the ground floor.

Upstairs, the first floor provides four well-proportioned double bedrooms, each with hardwood double-glazed windows, and a spacious family bathroom. The layout is ideal for family living, offering both privacy and comfort.

Lower Ground Floor Apartment:

Accessed independently, the lower ground floor offers excellent versatility and potential, either as a rental unit, guest accommodation, or re-incorporation into the main house. The apartment comprises a central hallway, a bright and spacious bay-fronted lounge, a fully fitted kitchen/dining room, two double bedrooms, and a bathroom.

Exterior:

Enjoying a light-filled dual aspect throughout, the property benefits from far-reaching views and is set within delightful, south-facing landscaped gardens that have been thoughtfully maintained. The gardens provide a peaceful and private setting, perfect for relaxing or entertaining.

In all, this is a rare opportunity to acquire a remarkable period home offering flexible accommodation, period elegance, and modern practicality in equal measure.
