The simplicity of the design of this modern town house belies its brilliance. Packed with specification and with a fabulous layout that really works.

Located in a tucked away position just ½ mile east of the Flemingate shopping centre, the Hideaway is an exclusive development of chic, contemporary styled homes designed by one of the regions most highly regarded architects.

Built to an exacting standard and with no expense spared, there is a mixture of property types to suit all buyers – from a beautifully laid out, light and bright two bedroom bungalow to a fabulously spacious four bedroom family house, along with a development of three stunning apartments, one of which has a roof terrace garden.

Constructed to the latest Building Regulations (2023) which include uprated insulation, the inclusion of solar panels and an electric car charging point, these fabulous homes are on the cutting edge of energy efficient living, reducing both the running costs and the carbon footprint over previously constructed new build homes.

This cost saving could be up to £3000 per year* and emissions of carbon only one third as compared to an older property.

As unique as the design is, the craftsmanship and care the builder has bestowed on the properties is a breath of fresh air from the larger house builders. The high specification, precision of the finish and intelligent layouts are matched by after sales care which will all provide for peace of mind when buying one of these new homes.

LOCATION

Situated at the head of Denton Street, this bold development is strikingly different from the period terraced properties typical of Beverley's attractive centre. Nestled between Holme Church Lane and Beverley's historic Beckside, the properties lie in a convenient location just 0.5mi from the Flemingate Shopping centre, 0.8mi from the Railway Station/ Town centre and with Beverley's majestic Minster in clear view.

Beverley is the County Town of the East Riding of Yorkshire. Situated 27 miles south-east of York and 15 miles north-west of Kingston Upon Hull, Beverley is a pretty market town with a great deal to offer. Lying conveniently close to the coast (12 mi) and situated at the foot of the rolling Yorkshire Wolds, the town centre has a vibrant mix of shops, bars and restaurants and has something to offer for everyone.

The orientation of The Hideaway provides for a Westerly aspect to the rear of the houses and a Southerly aspect to apartment's roof terrace.
