22 School Lane, Fulbourn - Guide Price £399,000

Fulbourn is a keenly sought after village to the south side of Cambridge, within easy reach of the Addenbrookes hospital biomedical campus and several large employers. The village has plentiful amenities including shops, pubs, food outlets and a well regarded primary school. A Tesco superstore is located around 1.5 miles away.

The property is a semi-detached house on a generous corner plot garden which offers significant scope to improve and perhaps extend further to the front and/or rear subject to the necessary planning consents. The dining room/bedroom 3 is located within the side extension and is a generous and flexible room with plenty of natural light, having two windows and sliding patio doors which open to the rear garden.
