Russian Cottage is an exceptional and historically significant home, set off a quiet private track and approached via electric gates onto a large cobblestone driveway with parking for numerous cars. A double garage, car port, walkway and outbuildings form a natural courtyard, beautifully framed by mature trees.

The striking log cabin at the heart of the property was imported from Russia in 1869 by the Cattle family and is believed to be the only original Russian cottage in the UK. The surrounding properties were later developed in a distinctive style by the Garle family, forming what is now known locally as Russian Valley, a designated conservation area.

Inside, large flagstone floors lead from the entrance past cloakrooms into a charming solid oak country kitchen/dining room with granite surfaces, Aga and walk-in pantry. Three impressive arched oak windows, reclaimed from Newgate Prison and thought to be up to 500 years old, add unique character. Stable doors open to the rear patio and courtyard, and this level also includes a study and WC.

To the other side of the hallway is a formal dining area with French doors to the garden, leading through to the stunning lounge set within the original log cabin. Restored solid elm floors, exposed log walls and a stone fireplace with log burner create a wonderfully atmospheric space. The wooden windows here were replaced approximately 12 years ago.

A wrought iron staircase leads to the first floor, offering a delightful log cabin bedroom with ensuite, a further bedroom, a large family bathroom with a copper bath, and a generous additional bedroom with striking oak windows and built-in wardrobes. Across the landing is the impressive master bedroom, featuring a vaulted ceiling, exposed steel beams, fitted wardrobes and a superb ensuite.

The house sits centrally within a half acre plot, and the landscaped rear garden—completely remodelled 12 years ago, offers outstanding outdoor living. A large patio leads to a pergola with pizza oven and outdoor kitchen, while around the corner a spacious decked area houses a half-sunken 7 person self cleaning hot tub. Beyond, sweeping lawns, mature trees, yew topiary, large ferns and flower beds create a remarkable setting. A 110ft pump fed stream flows down to a large pond, with a secluded seating area at its head. In the evenings, extensive LED and tree lighting transforms the garden into a magical space.

Modern comforts include a Lutron mood-sensitive lighting system, air conditioning in the master bedroom, an extensive DS Cam security system and cabling for a premium home automation system controlling lighting, heating, audio, TV and the gates.
