LOCATION AND HISTORY

Nestled on the doorstep of the magnificent 670-acre National Trust Parkland and Croome Estate offering breathtaking walks and views of the Malvern Hills and Bredon Hill. The private gated entrance of London Arch affords a much-appreciated sense of privacy and security to all residents.

The nearby Georgian market town of Pershore offers a wide range of everyday amenities, including independent shops, a health centre, a cottage hospital, a public library, a community arts centre and cinema, public houses and restaurants. Recreational facilities include tennis, cricket, football and rugby clubs, a leisure centre with a swimming pool, the historic Abbey and surrounding park, and the River Avon. It is also well known for its annual plum festival. There is an educational provision from nursery/pre-school to high school and a sixth form college available at Pershore High School. Of particular importance is the number of highly regarded private schools in Worcester, Malvern and Cheltenham.

The county town and cathedral city of Worcester, lying on the banks of the River Severn, provides high street shopping and is characterised by one of England's great cathedrals, its racecourse, county cricket ground and university. Pershore, with its Georgian appeal, is also a good shopping centre and has a community-active theatre, library and excellent market.

The Worcester Parkway Railway Station, (just under 6 miles) to the south of Worcester, reduces journey times for commuters, and has ample parking which increases the capacity for London commuters. This has a significant impact on Worcestershire's accessibility to the capital and other regional locations.

If education is a priority, then Worcestershire is blessed with an enviable mix of schooling at all levels, including a variety of independent establishments, notably King's prep school and senior school, allowing parents to select the right environment for their children's needs. Royal Grammar School and King's School in Worcester. Malvern College is also within easy reach.

More extensive shopping and services can be found in Worcester, and Cheltenham is well known for its specialist shopping and is within easy reach.
