In an unrivalled position on the seafront promenade and with spectacular views into Tor Bay this unlisted Victorian Villa with south-facing parking, gardens and two independent apartments has been in the same family for over ninety years and is now ready for a transformative renovation

FOR SALE FREEHOLD

Pendennis is a fine Victorian Villa built c1868 and is considered a house of architectural importance within the Chelston Conservation area. This detached house was divided during the last century with the creation of two independent apartments in the old servant's wing leaving the principal rooms within the main house. These apartments currently provide a letting income.

LOCATION

Pendennis was built in this prime location to take advantage of the spectacular sea views and all that Torquay has to offer. It is set within the Chelston Conservation area which has a visible legacy of gracious Victorian residences. Within a short walk along the promenade are hotels, restaurants, the harbour, marina, Princess Theatre and the sandy beach at Torre Abbey Sands. Torquay railway station is also within easy walking distance. Extensive local amenities are available at the nearby village style communities of Walnut Road and Old Mill Lane.

INTERIOR

Approached from Seaway Lane the driveway leads to the original front door which opens to a lobby where a second partially glazed door opens to the hallway. The reception rooms of the original villa are well-proportioned with high ceilings, picture rails, intricate original cornicing and Art Deco style fireplace surrounds. These rooms both have attractive arched French doors which frame the stunning bay views and provide direct access to the terrace and garden. The impressive sitting room has a canted bay which allows space for a grand piano and has additional windows to the side aspect providing an abundance of natural daylight.

The kitchen/breakfast room has some original built-in cupboards and a recess which is thought to be the space where the original range was located. There is good natural daylight and a glass panelled door opens to the side of the house. This substantial room is now ready to be transformed into a showstopping kitchen with space for casual dining.

Completing the accommodation at the ground floor is a study with a view overlooking the driveway, there is also a cloakroom/WC. From the hallway the original staircase rises to a landing where there is another cloakroom/WC, and the staircase turns and rises to the first floor.

At this level there are three double bedrooms, a family bathroom and two single bedrooms. The principal bedroom and bedroom two both enjoy sweeping views around the bay stretching from the lighthouse at Berry Head in one direction returning to the harbour and marina in the other. The principal bedroom has a canted bay window and all three of the double bedrooms have art-deco style fire surrounds and pedestal washbasins. The large family bathroom has a panelled bath, separate shower, WC and handbasin. The two single bedrooms overlook the grounds towards Seaway Lane.
