Gunnings Cottage is a pretty detached family house perfectly situated in Upton Noble, a sought-after village just minutes from Bruton. Dating to the mid-1800s and originally a small, two up, two down cottage, this picturesque property has been lovingly restored and extended over recent years and now offers stylish accommodation over two floors.

The house retains many period features that combine with imaginative modern interior design and now works perfectly as a wonderful family home. The property is approached via gates and an attractive private gravelled driveway. The formal front door sits beneath a pretty porch in the South East façade of the house.

In day-to-day use, doors open to a magnificent kitchen sitting area at the heart of the house. The kitchen itself is furnished with an oil fired 4 oven aga, polished granite work surfaces and shaker styled hand-crafted units. Other notable features include an integrated Bosch dishwasher, a Belfast sink, soft closing drawers and a Fisher & Paykel hob. A pretty island doubles as a breakfast bar and the beautiful limestone floor underfoot gives the room a warm and comfortable feel. The sitting area is defined by a natural solid oak floor and is enhanced by the garden room added very recently. An attractive square skylight and an array of fully glazed panels allow natural light to pour into the room.

Off the kitchen are two reception rooms in the oldest part of the house. The snug is cosy and comes with an original flagstone floor, a wood burning stove and aged oak lintels. The sitting room is equally impressive with a second Hetta woodburning stove situated within a beautiful, exposed stone fireplace (incorporating a bread oven). Both rooms truly reflect the rich history of the house. Completing the ground floor is a cloakroom and a spacious utility room with solid timber worktops, bespoke cabinetry, and access to the garden via a back door.

The staircase rises from the sitting room to a landing area that opens to a principal bedroom suite, three further bedrooms and a family bathroom.

The suite comprises of a sizeable walk-in wardrobe and an elegantly furnished en-suite bathroom. Both bathrooms are decorated in delicate pastel shades and come with painted timber floors, stylish tongue and groove panelling and traditional styled high-end fixtures and fittings. Both feature a bathtub and a shower.

All the bedrooms are elegantly furnished – aged oak beams grace the ceilings, a mezzanine floor in bedroom one lends it real character and the views of the Somerset countryside that extend to Alfreds Tower are truly stunning.

Outside

The gardens and grounds are charming and are approaching 5.5 acres in total. A seasoned stone path winds its way through the front garden to the front door. This part of the garden is sheltered by a beautiful dry-stone wall and a variety of mature trees and shrubs that enrich the landscape.

To the East, well-manicured lawns stretch away to the near boundary that separates the agricultural land from the garden. A well-kept post and rail fence frames the fields and demarks a paddock that extends to approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ of an acre. Of particular interest is an 'icehouse' still in use. A windmill perches in the field to the north and could be operated to pump natural spring water.

Closer to the house are outbuildings that incorporate a double garage (with remotely operated doors) and a delightful part-finished 1 bed annex. On completion, this would offer a kitchen diner and bathroom on the ground floor and a generous living area and a bedroom on the first floor. Planning consent can be viewed <https://publicaccess.mendip.gov.uk/online-applications/> 2024/1194/HSE

To the rear of the outbuildings is a private kitchen garden with raised beds that offer the opportunity for home grown produce. The views are exceptional from all corners of the garden.
