Green Credentials

There are large banks of solar panels on the southerly facing roofs of the main house, which we understand to be owned outright, these feed back into the National Grid with financial benefit to the owners.

The cellar houses the central heating boilers, which are hopper-fed by organic pellets, the current owners inform us that provided there is an element of commercial use within the property then the cost of pellets is heavily subsidised, to virtually nil cost.

We recommend these arrangements are clarified and confirmed by your legal advisors.

However, it would lend itself to becoming a wedding venue, business headquarters, conference centre, nursing home, school, nursery, the list is endless. In all cases it is imperative that the successful purchaser establishes the correct usage can be obtained from West Northamptonshire Council.
