Summary

Western House is one of the principal homes in Branksome Park. It occupies a magnificent plot turning the corner of Western Avenue and Bury Road.

The largely level grounds benefit from a sunny aspect, something which is especially rare to find. The distinctive architecture includes no less than three turrets and the built form extends to over 6,700 square feet. The flexible layout is large and impressive and it includes six sizeable bedrooms, six bathrooms, five receptions and an integral garage. Features include a wonderful reception hall complete with an imperial staircase and a simply immense kitchen family room with a vaulted ceiling. As if to emphasise the house's first class entertaining credentials the semi open plan sitting areas connect to an uber cool fully fitted bar. The accommodation has been laid out to include a two storey guest wing with a galleried ceiling and the decor throughout is super stylish, having been interior designed by the current owners. Standout features include the epic principal bedroom suite and the stunning kitchen family room which opens directly onto the private sun terrace. The beautiful garden has been landscaped to include an outdoor swimming pool with automated cover, a sun deck and an outdoor kitchen. Naturally the driveway has plenty of room for guests and it is enclosed by remote control gates.
