Summary

Hillcrest is a rare gem set in nearly 1.9 acres of beautiful grounds in the pretty and sought after hamlet of Holtwood a short distance from Wimborne Minster. You would be forgiven for thinking it had featured in this picturesque countryside setting for generations but in fact it was built by one of the area's leading architects and completed little more than five years ago.

As such it benefits from modern standards of construction with luxuries such as under floor central heating to much of the house, an air source heat pump and modern insulation combined with high ceilings, beautiful skirtings, architraves and a simply stunning decor.

There is a total built form of around 3,600 square feet which includes the main house as well as a one bedroom guest annexe and oversized garage. The principal accommodation includes four bedrooms, three bathrooms and modern family reception rooms comprising an L shaped kitchen / family room, formal living, feature study and a wonderful galleried reception hall.

The formal garden includes a private sun terrace and the extended grounds are some of the prettiest we have seen. The turning circle on the gravel driveway certainly imbues the house with a sense of arrival and it completes a picture-perfect scene. Unusually, Hillcrest benefits from mains sewerage connection.
