Summary

The Haven is one of the largest and most important houses in Arrowsmith Road standing in magnificent grounds of just over 5.5 acres.

The main dwelling extends to just over 7,600 square feet and it was constructed to exacting standards with high quality features and materials evident throughout. In the main dwelling there are a total of five bedrooms and three / potentially four bathrooms although the very top floor of the main house could be used as a suite. On the ground floor there are three imposing receptions rooms in addition to the kitchen family room. All of the principal rooms benefit from views of the magnificent rolling grounds. In addition to the main accommodation in there is a "guest apartment" with a large sitting room, kitchen and bedroom although this is closed off or incorporated to the remaining house by simply closing or opening a door connecting to hallway on the first floor. The footprint of the house is essentially L shaped so in addition to casual parking there is a pretty courtyard area leading to the extensive garaging which could house up to as many as 8 cars, depending upon the size and how they are arranged. Beyond the house, there is a substantial outbuilding (not featured in our particulars) previously used as a garden office with a gas central heating system, lighting, water and connection to the house's private drainage system. The grounds, which amount to just over 5.5 acres, extend all around the house and feature a magnificent 12-pond water garden with cascading waterfalls. An impressive terrace extends to 2 sides of the house, and has steps leading down to a large expanse of lawn interspersed with trees. At the lower level there is a substantial block built animal building/tractor store with a separate tack room.
